OFFICIAL BRAZILIAN COLUMBOFILIA IN THE HIGHLIGHT!

FCB achieves MAPA Registration, promotes Traceability and facilitates inspections with new Dovecote Certificate

The Brazilian pigeon racing is experiencing a historic moment of national recognition and International. The Brazilian Pigeon Federation (FCB) recently announced important achievements that boost the sport and consolidate Brazil as a protagonist in the sports poultry scene.

The FCB, committed to promoting and regulating pigeon racing in the country, is affiliated to the renowned International Pigeon Federation (FCI) and the Ibero-Latin American Pigeon Pigeon Association (AILAC). These affiliations represent recognition of the quality and value of the work developed by FCB, opening doors to international competitions and exchange of knowledge with different creators from all over the world.

In addition, FCB was registered with the Ministry of Agriculture, Livestock and Supply (MAPA), becoming the only official and legitimate entity of the Brazilian pigeon racing. That conquest, represents a significant milestone for the sport, giving credibility and government support for the Entity's practices.

Another highlight is the update of FCB's Bylaws, carried out in April 2023. updates are already available on the Entity's website, reflecting FCB's commitment in adapting to legal changes and the demands of the sport. Among the highlights are the incorporation of the Law on Mistreatment of Animals, Animal Traceability (IN No. 5/2018 - MAPA), reinforcing FCB's commitment to the welfare of birds and promoting practices ethical and responsible practices in Brazilian pigeon racing.

The official results and valuation of birds registered with MAPA traceability also gain relevance in this scenario. With transparent and reliable criteria established by the FCB, official pigeon fanciers have the opportunity to evaluate the performance birds and reward the most talented. The valuation of registered birds carrying the FCB-BR/FCI official bands, accompanied by the numbers of traceability elements provided by MAPA, guarantee the legitimate origin and proper monitoring of the birds, increasing the confidence of professional breeders and promoting the appreciation of the genetic heritage of racing pigeons.

One of the great novelties is the launch of the new Pombal Certificate, valid for only six months, in addition to having an anti-fraud QRCode, it will be made available to all official breeders registered through the FCB Official System.

This Certificate brings with it several benefits, including facilitation in health inspections. With the numbers of traceability elements present, the registered official breeder's card plus the new Loft Certificate, the health authorities will be able to carry out more efficient and precise checks, guaranteeing the conformity and health of the birds, avoiding thus, any type of setback at the time of inspection.

These conquests have a significant impact for Brazilian pigeon racing. Through its affiliation to the FCI and AILAC, the Pigeon Facility of Brazil gains global visibility, establishes connections with breeders from different countries and strengthens its position as one of the main exponents of international sport poultry.

"Affiliation to FCI and AILAC, registration with MAPA and launch of the new loft certificate represent fundamental achievements for the Brazilian pigeon racing. We are committed to promoting an ethical, responsible sport that values animal welfare. With these initiatives, we strengthen the confidence of breeders, facilitate health inspections and guarantee the excellence of pigeon racing in our country", said the president of FCB, Dr.

Claudio Boriola.

The Brazilian pigeon racing is, without a doubt, reaching ever higher flights. With FCB at the forefront of this movement, the promising future of the sport is guaranteed, providing joy, healthy competition and unity among official racing pigeon breeders across the country.

PIGGE PATTERN

The word PATTERN leads us to the meaning of MODEL, and when we take that meaning to the carrier pigeon side, we want to talk about how the concern and work of the pigeon fancier, who above all must also be a pigeon fancier.

The model of the modern carrier pigeon is not something that happened by chance, this model is a work resulting from decisions taken at meetings between creators that concerned not only with the ability to fly and sense of orientation, but also with the aesthetic part of the racing pigeon. In this aesthetic part is the concern to develop a set of factors that provide a good result in flight capacity.

Just like a car, or an aircraft today, which has a mechanical and aerodynamic more advanced and designed to make friction and shifting force better used, the fancier must worry about these factors also in pigeons that are to be born in his loft. So the breeder's job must be to produce birds with good flight mechanics.

Every breeder, and also any layman, appreciates and prefers a beautiful pigeon, a pigeon that attracts attention to the eye. But what makes a pigeon pretty to look at? What makes a pigeon beautiful to look at is the set. The vision of a layman is different from the vision of a creator with some practice time.

The set can be appreciated and judged in two ways, the first is what we can see and give our opinion at a first and quick moment, and the second is what we analyze when we have the pigeon in the hands. At that moment, the experienced and technical breeder can evaluate the whole set.

You can immediately feel the quality of the feathers, which must be silky, soft and convey quality. He must be free of any defect caused by lice and flies or deformations caused by the misuse of medicines or anomalies caused when crossing, mainly consanguineous crossings, when practiced randomly.

Still talking about the feathers, the size of the wing and the tail must be observed, which must be proportional to the size of the pigeon. The elasticity capacity of the attack feathers, the primary ones, mainly from the 5th to the 10th, must be carefully evaluated, because they are super required in the exercise of the flight, mainly in the great distances with head wind.

Fast pigeons, even over great distances, have narrow effort feathers, the wide feathers characteristic of slower pigeons. In the same way pigeons with a very large volume of feathers, shows a slow pigeon and genetically adapted to climate countries very cold.

When pigeons are in good shape, as a result of a good molt, perfect health and a balanced diet, they produce a white powder, which gives that feeling of quality and leaves the bath water completely covered in white.

The skeleton must have good conformity, providing strong wings, external not too prominent, strong fork, short and with just a few millimeters of spacing, which gives the impression of balance, of harmony. Legs and neck should not be too short or too long.

The importance of the pigeon being well balanced and presenting a harmonious set within the standard, is that it allows fast and long-lasting flights, as these good qualities mentioned above allow a good displacement with the least possible effort, allowing less energy consumption. , that is, your reserves are much better used.

Note that the vast majority of champions in pigeon racing have a standardized colony and physically very similar pigeons, unlike beginners or breeders for a long time who breed their birds without any selection criteria, where pigeons of various morphological types are seen. It is important to remember that success as a competitor is associated with some factors: ideal pattern, knowledge and mastery of flight techniques, correct training and a super selection.
